Apartment Fire Damage Set at $100 By Chief

A fire believed started by a cigarette which fell into the bed clothing in an apartment at 1963-A West 222nd street and which brought crowds of neighbor residents to the scene Monday evening resulted in damage estimated to be approximately $100, Fire Chief J. J. Benner reported.

Firemen theorized that Harry Benan, occupant of the apartment, might have dropped a lighted cigarette before he left the apartment a half-hour before the fire was discovered.

The building is owned by H. L. Voien of 2100 Cabrillo avenue.

LOW ISLANDS
No part of the Palmyra island group in the Pacific is more than six feet above the ocean, but the islands are important for air service.

Services Pending For Mary Resuit

Funeral services for Mary Resuit, 69, mother of Mrs. Frank Dominguez, are pending today at Stone and Myers Mortuary following her death at the Torrance Memorial Hospital Tuesday evening.

Arrangements have been tentatively set for 2 p. m. tomorrow, but final arrangements will not be completed until children living in the East have indicated whether they will come for the services.

A native of Warsaw, Poland, Mrs. Resuit had lived with her son, John, 1640 1/2 West 216th street. She had been in Torrance about four years.

Two other sons and one daughter survive. One son, Steve, and one daughter, Anna Gamarino, live in Buffalo, N. Y. The other son, Louis, lives in Rockway, N. J.

11-Year-Old Stars In Play

Starring in "The Story of the Manger," now being performed in Protestant and Catholic churches and in the Logan Theater in Hollywood, is 11-year-old Joseph Campanizzi Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Campanizzi of 17038 South Atkinson, in North Torrance.

A student at the North Torrance Elementary School and the Logan Studio of Dramatic Arts in Hollywood, the young actor is portraying the roles of a prophet, an inkeeper, and a wise man in the "Christmas" story.

The assignments in the theater production of this story is nothing unusual for young Campanizzi.

He played a starring role in Crusader Film, Inc., pictures "The Boy Samuel" and "Isaac, the Boy." In Emmerson Productions pictures he played Daniel Webster as a boy in "Daniel Webster." He was also the lead in "The Hidden Wall," which was filmed at Nassour Studios.
